NEW FRENCH
ARMY RIFLETHE LABEL LONGER AND HEAV-IER THAN AMERICAN GUN, BUT NO BETTER.

WASHINGTON, July 21.—A sample of the new French small arm, the improved Lebel rifle, has been received at the War Department and is being carefully examined by the experts. The gun is about four inches longer than the new American rifle, slightly smaller in caliber and a pound or two heavier, but it does not appear that it surpasses the American arm in range, accuracy or other valuable qualities. The magazine extends in a line with the barrel like an American sporting rifle, and the gun uses no clips; consequently it is slower to load than our own gun. The center of gravity is continually shifting with the movement of the magazine in the magazine, and there is danger that a shell in the magazine might be exploded by a sharp blow of the stock upon the ground, causing the pointed bullet of one shell to strike the primer of the one above it. A queer square ribbed bayonet over two inches in length, fitted with a sword handle of aluminum, gives the French gun a formidable appearance, but our ordnance officers think better of our knife bayonet.

The stock market continues very sick and nobody knows the address of the doctor.—Providence Journal.

A LIBERDADE AND
JUDGE ROBINSONFATHER BEISSEL IN THE ORGAN OF THE CATHOLIC MISSION EX-PRESSES HIS VIEWS ON THE ROBINSON-PORTUGUESE CONTRO-VERSY—IT IS IN GOOD SPIRIT BUT HARDLY UP TO FATHER
BEISSEL'S KEEN CONTROVERSIAL REPUTATION.

A Liberdade in its current issue contains the following article in the English section, concerning the Judge Robinson controversy. In the Portuguese columns it contains Judge Robinson's letter to its editor in both English and Portuguese which does not differ materially from the letter addressed to the Portuguese committee. There is also a Portuguese rendering of the resolutions adopted by the Portuguese meeting and a translation of the letter of C. W. Booth to the Star on the subject.

The leading article of editorial character follows.

JUDGE ROBINSON AND THE PORTUGUESE.

It is to be regretted that Judge Robinson in working for a worthy cause, the repeal of the Hawaiian land laws, brought forth a statement, which, the way it reads, applies to an honorable class of immigrants, the Portuguese, in every respect the best of all the different nationalities that have been tried by our planters, some epithets which they certainly do not deserve.

If they were poor and uneducated—many were educated at least in their own language—when they arrived here, no sensible man makes them a crime or event a dishonor of this deficiency. But all with very few exceptions were certainly honest, moral, religious, law abiding sons of the Catholic Church.

But are they fit material to make American citizens? The courts of justice have had very few cases on their calendars in which a Portuguese was the defendant. And when they had, they astonished the world at least in one case by the very remarkable sentence meted out to the unfortunate "Pariah" short comings of those individuals who it is the case in which Governor Carter Johnson trial, he is certainly wrong in accepting them for the whole people. His exaggerated statement is certainly offensive to the Portuguese. But I must deprecate also similar exaggerations on the part of many of those letter writers who appeared in the press at this occasion. May all remember that exaggeration hurts the cause it would like to defend.

This seems to me a very effective medicine to ward off "moral leprosy" at its first appearance.

If we consider our Portuguese immigrants as a class, not belonging as such to the upper strata of society—I defy anybody to produce a similar number of the same people of any other nationality (Americans included) to compare with them in their moral character. Unfortunately the younger generation which has learned to read and to write, is rapidly degenerating from the good old stock of their parents such as the ("anomalous") government of Portugal has produced them. "If moral leprosy" be found among them, they found it here in the sunny land of American liberty and enlightenment. We need not down America to put Portugal up, but if the fruits show the quality of the tree our citizens of old Portugal can very well stand the comparison.

If the individual did exist for the benefit of the state or the society—a notion which seems to underlie the educational hobby so much praised up by today's politicians, it would be right to teach and educate all the citizens in order to improve the stock owned by the society or the state. But this is a misconception, society exists for the benefit of the individual. The state is formed in order to help the individual to attain his aim of life in accordance with the notions the individual has a right to have for himself of his life's aim.

If only those are fit material for American citizenship that know how to vote intelligently, well, I declare there are but few who answer this requirement, not more, indeed, than are actually able to run the machine of the government by themselves. The committee have had very few cases on their calendars in which a Portuguese was the defendant. And when they had, they astonished the world at least in one case by the very remarkable sentence meted out to the unfortunate "Pariah" short comings of those individuals who it is the case in which Governor Carter Johnson trial, he is certainly wrong in accepting them for the whole people. His exaggerated statement is certainly offensive to the Portuguese. But I must deprecate also similar exaggerations on the part of many of those letter writers who appeared in the press at this occasion. May all remember that exaggeration hurts the cause it would like to defend.

We notice with pleasure that Judge Robinson has seen his error. In a letter he addressed to last Sunday's Advertiser he explains away the offensive expressions, and consequently the clouds of just indignation will disappear.

THE PLACING OF TEACHERSNUMEROUS REQUESTS FOR CHANGES IN THE LONG LIST OF AS-SIGNMENTS OF JOBS ARE EXPECTED—THE BOARD DEPRE-
CATES PRIVATE LOBBYING AS A MEANS OF SECURING CHAN-GES—PLAN UPON WHICH ASSIGNMENTS WERE MADE.

The announcement of the assignments of teachers to positions in the public schools is expected to be followed by numerous complaints and requests for changes in the distribution of the jobs. It was not expected that about 500 persons could be assigned to places just as they would choose, and in some cases teachers got jobs they didn't want. This morning Superintendent Babbitt had several teachers as callers, and it is expected that there will be some with requests for readjustments of the list.

By way of forestalling individual efforts to have changes made, the Board of Education declared itself against private lobbying on the proposition. At the meeting yesterday afternoon Superintendent Babbitt, with the approval of the Board, intimated strongly that the teachers were not wanted to run after individual members of the Board, or members of the Teachers' committee, and try to use influence to have changes made.

"In some of the cases," said Babbitt, "the changes of assignment have been made against the known desires of the teachers concerned. The assignments have been made generally as the committee thought best for the efficiency of the department. Of course, in many cases the locations of the homes of teachers is an important consideration, for a teacher naturally wants to have a school near where she has a home."

At the suggestion of Babbitt it was decided that the appointments shall be considered as from year to year, the Board not being bound in any way not to make changes such as may seem advisable at any time. The list as decided upon, it is believed, will be substantially maintained.
